Database Manager’s Report

Al Cornish
Washington State University Libraries
Some accomplishments

• Site transition to updated design (including researcher site and project stylesheet)

• Some stylesheet improvements thru local programming, including improved processing speed

• Migrating the NWDA service to an new platform
Some accomplishments

• Implementation of Google-like keyword searching (word order irrelevant) on researcher site

• Systematic off-site storage of NWDA content

• Development of an updated researcher site using the Microsoft .NET 2.0 framework
Open Archives Initiative data provider

- Enables collection-level information on NWDA finding aids to be harvested by repositories

- Next-generation discovery systems (one example, Ex Libris Primo) support the searching of OAI data
The Open Archives Initiative Protocol for Metadata Harvesting

Guide to the Waterfront Oral History Project records

Today, May 22, 2008, 1 hour ago

This collection comprises oral history interviews, transcripts and related materials generated through the 2006 Waterfront Oral History Project in Bellingham, Washington. Students at Western Washington University interviewed eighteen current and former employees of the Georgia-Pacific Corporation’s pulp mill on Bellingham’s industrial waterfront. Interviewees discuss plant operations and topics including research into chemical byproducts and their uses in other industries, relations between the GP corporation, mill employees, and the community (including Western Washington University), as well as labor and union activity. The collection includes audio-visual footage recorded by David Albright, portions of which were incorporated into his 2006 documentary “Smells Like Money: The Story of Bellingham’s Georgia-Pacific Plant”.

Instructions for adding tracking

Copy the following code block into every webpage you want to track immediately before the `</body>` tag.

If your site has dynamic content you can use a common include or a template. Learn More

Use this tracking code to gain access to a wide range of exciting new features as they become available.

```html
<script type="text/javascript"> document.write(document.location.protocol); " + gaJsHost + "google-analytics.com/ga.js";
</script>

<script type="text/javascript"> var pageTracker = _gaq._getTracker("UA-3516166-1");
  pageTracker._initData();
  pageTracker._trackPageview();
</script>

Note: We recommend that you do not include both tracking code snippets together on any given page. Doing so might generate inaccurate report data. You can, however, migrate select pages of your site to the new tracking code while the legacy code remains on others.
